Announcer: (Offstage) If you're talking about it, we're talking about it. 97.7FM, K-Talk Radio.

Mark: And we're back. 97.7FM, K-Talk. Mark Matthews here with you till the top of the hour. We're taking your calls: 555-T-A-L-K, 555-talk. The topic today is "Something to Believe In." Been taking a lot of calls. Let's go back to the phone lines. We have Habib from Collinsville. Hello, Habib, you're on the air.

Habib: (Indian accent) Yes, hello, I'm a long-time listener, first-time caller.

Mark: Well, welcome to the phone lines here, Habib. We're talking something to believe in. Do you believe in something?

Habib: Oh, yes. I believe in the Slurpee™.

Mark: Uh huh, you believe in the Slurpee™.

Habib: Oh yes. I'm telling you right now, if you've got a good cherry/cola mix you've got a little slice of heaven.

Mark: Is that right?

Habib: Hold on, please... (Takes a slurp of drink) Oh, that is so good.

Mark: I see. So, Habib, what you're telling me, is that you believe in the Slurpee. Is that right?

Habib: Oh, yes.

Mark: Anything else you believe in?

Habib: Oh, yes! I believe in the beef jerky. I'm telling you, beef jerky is the finest cut of beef that there is. You can take a piece of beef jerky, put it in your back pocket, and carry it around for five years and it still tastes the same. How does it work this magic?

Mark: Well, Habib, I've got some magic for you.

Habib: Oh, show me your magic.

Click.

Mark: Momma, from Doonesbury, you're on the air.

Momma: Hello?

Mark: Hi, Momma, welcome to the program.

Momma: Hello?

Mark: Yes, you're on the air.

Momma: Yes. I think she should keep the baby.

Mark: Uh, Momma, we're not talking about any babies here today, we're talking about something to believe in.

Momma: That lady in the chartreuse dress, she should keep the baby.

Mark: Okay, Momma, I don't know how you're watching the radio here, Momma...

Momma: (Pronounced O-fra) Is Ophra there? I need to speak with Ophra.

Mark: (Overlapping) No, Momma, Momma, you must have your television on, and your radio on at the same time.

Momma: Jerry Springfield, is that you? Oh, you're the devil, Jerry.

Mark: All right, you're pulling double duty with the electronics here, Momma. Listen to me here, we're talking about something to believe in. While, I have you on the air, do you believe in anything?

Momma: Pardon me?

Mark: Do you believe in anything, Momma?

Momma: Well... I believe in a good set of support hose.

Mark: Naturally. Moving on. Charlie from Vincent County. Charlie you're on the air. Welcome to the program.

Charlie: Um, um, um, okay, um, um, I, um...

Mark: Spit it out, Charlie.

Charlie: ... Um, um, okay, okay, um...

Mark: Charlie, just spit it out. We're listening.

Charlie: Um, um, okay...

Mark: Charlie, just...

Charlie: Um, um...

Click.

Mark: Juan, from Carlita. Go ahead, Juan, you're on the air.
